CONFERENCE ON INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION 2012

Jimbaran, Bali, Indonesia, 5 - 6 May 2012

FOREWORD FOREWORD

I am delighted to express that BANI Arbitration Center feels much honored in hosting this Regional Arbitrators Institutes Forum Conference of 2012.

The objective of this Conference is to make closer ties between Arbitral Institutes. Great input could be made into the work of the Conference, in particular with the active participation of the attending members. As we are well aware, many years have passed since the UNCITRAL Model Law was adopted by the United Nations. Thereafter, the United Nations began to discuss and adopt specific rules on matters of a technical arbitration nature.

This is indeed the current trend: having set up a broad arbitration political-legal regime within which arbitration activities may be carried out, the international community has now begun to focus its attention on the development of rules of a more specific, technical, and partly-commercial nature. This new phase in arbitration law-making activities has primarily come about 1) because we have moved from the era of Arbitration Law exploration to the era of simplification of process exploitation; 2) because the operation areas that now require regulation have become more technical in nature; 3) because of the proliferation in technology, due, in part, to the realization that business exploitation and use benefit not only a small minority of states and groups, but the entire family of nations; 4) because of the dramatic shift from the emphasis on the use of arbitration for non-business communities, as opposed to technical business uses, which has been caused, in part, by globalization; 5) because of the tremendous world-wide increase of private entities using arbitration for their commercial ends; and 6) because of the greater involvement of developing countries in the use and joining world business activities.

There are several areas in which this Conference and its speakers could play a leading role in providing input to the deliberations of the arbitration legal making process in particular, and thus contribute substantially to the work of this Conference. First of all, members could discuss afresh, with a new frame of mind, the issues that are currently on the agenda, i.e., the questions of the specific arbitration doctrines, principles, etc, arbitration benefits, and other sources of arbitration new rules, the Conference could further continue its examination of contemporary topics matters like the standardization of international arbitration rules.

We hope greater participation by the participants of the Conference, especially the younger generation, in the discussion at the Conference as well as in further activities of the forum and its member institutes.

Good luck and best wishes to all, looking forward to meet you at the Conference and wish you enjoy your stay in Bali.

ABOUT BANI ARBITRATION CENTER

BANI Arbitration Center, or formally Indonesia National Board of Arbitration (BANI), is an arbitral institution, providing a range of services in relation to arbitration, mediation, binding opinion and other form of dispute resolutions.

BANI was established in 1977 on initiative of three prominent lawyers, namely the late Prof. R. Subekti, the late Mr. Haryono Tjitrosoebono and Prof. H. Priyatna Abdurrasyid. With initial support of Indonesia Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Centre is located in Jakarta with offices in some Indonesia major cities including Surabaya, Bandung, Pontianak, Denpasar, Medan, Palembang and Batam.

Committed to complete neutrality and independence in its role as an arbitral institution, BANI has developed its own rules and procedures for arbitration, including the time frame in which Arbitral Tribunal has to render awards.

Such rule is used in both domestic and international arbitration taking place in Indonesia. BANI has more than 100 respected arbitrators with various professional background, about thirty five percent of which are foreign nationals.

REGIONAL ARBITRAL INSTITUTE FORUM (RAIF)

Between 2004 and 2007, the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators entered into separate Memoranda of Co-operation with Malaysian Institute of Arbitrators, Institute of Arbitrators and Mediators Australia, Hong Kong Institute of Arbitrators, BANI Arbitration Centre and Arbitration Association of Brunei Darussalam to exchange and disseminate the information on arbitration and promote understanding and co-operation between their respective institutes. In 2007, arising from these Memoranda of Co-operation, Singapore Institute of Arbitrators hosted the Inaugural Arbitral Institutes Conference in Singapore. The intention was that the Conference be a platform for the partner institutes to exchange and promote awareness of the arbitration laws and practices in each of the member institute's country.

The success and large attendance of the Inaugural Conference, led the guest-of-honour, Judge of Appeal Justice V K Rajah to suggest in his keynote address that the Conference be held annually, and that a permanent grouping of member institutes be formally formed.

The idea was well received. Following a meeting after the Conference, members of the six arbitral institutes unanimously supported the formation of a regional arbitral body with the aim of serving the educational and social needs of the members of the arbitral institutes. The six founding members voted at the meeting to adopt the name "Regional Arbitral Institutes Forum" with the acronym "RAIF". It was further agreed that RAIF would be non-political and non-governmental and its role would be committed to driving the social and educational needs of its member institutes.
